Please tell me when to use "difficulty" and when to use "difficulties". I'm confused.
1. "Most children learn to speak without any difficulty."
2. "Most children learn to speak without any difficulties."

The red text is equivalent to "difficulty" - the grammatical term escapes me for the moment. You won't have any difficulty finding your way around the city. You won't have any difficulties finding ...

She has difficulty in breathing or She has difficulty with brathing. Which preposition is correct in the examples above?

Hi all, I was wondering how everyone would rank the Romance languages in order of difficulty (out of the ones they know). Based on my experience and what I find difficult, I'd rank them ...

Hi, I have a question. Is there any difference in meaning between "having difficulty doing sth" and "having difficulty in doing sth" ?

Hi, I would like to know which of these options is correct or whether they are both correct: "She has difficulty of making new friends." "She has difficulty to make new friends." Thanks!

Is it wrong if I say "I have problem doing sth" or anything else like it such as "I have problem with my arm" "This is problem for me" etc. Also should I say "I have difficulty doing sth" or ...

I had difficulty at first but then I told it. It is difficult to imagine the context in which that would be said: What is "it"? You must have "something" with which to have difficulty, although that ...

I find it difficult to learn to drive. Is it also right to say "I find it difficult learning to drive"?

Difficulty in promoting solar power generation

Rather than degree of difficulty, the speaker will explain what the difficulties are; why it is difficult. These are two of the definitions you will find in a dictionary: how (definitions 1 and 3). (3), as ...
